Quick action stops 6,000-gallon oil spill before it can reach Lake Christopher

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Snow, sand, a cargo of plywood and above all quick thinking -- were enough to stem a tide of oil headed toward Lake Christopher last Wednesday.

Approximately 6,000 gallons of number one oil, Bunker C oil was released into a roadside stream when a tanker truck headed for the Crown Vantage paper mill in Berlin overturned about half the way down Mountain Hill on Route 26.

By the end of the day, a professional environmental clean-up firm had truckloads of specialized equipment at the site. By the end of the first night after the early morning accident, it was quick application of the materials at hand that made all the difference.

The Woodstock Fire Department and town road foreman Percy Monk were among the first to arrive at the site.

Seeing the molasses-like black slush pouring from the tanker and heading downstream, Monk began working with a backhoe to pack in snow to slow the oil's progress.

"When you see anything like that headed toward the lake, you try to stop it with whatever you've got," he said later.

Monk also called Ken Poland for sand.

Gregg Inman, a highway crew supervisor for the Maine Department of Transportation, was at home in West Paris when word of the accident went out.

Arriving at the accident scene, he rushed to have MDOT trucks in Bethel and West Paris loaded up

1996 Town Meetings

'Use it ($28,000) or lose it,' state tells Gilead

By ALISON ALOISIO

Gilead voters will decide at Saturday's Town Meeting whether to use $28,000 to establish a scholarship fund -- or give the money to the state and pay penalties on it besides.

The article is one of 37 to be considered by townspeople in a proposed municipal budget that is close to last year's $184,000, according to administrative assistant Beverly Corriveau.

Corriveau said the town has $28,000 more in the school general fund than the state allows.

Gilead tuition its students to SAD44.

SAD44 Supt. Ron Jenkins said the funding problem arose about six years ago when the state failed to reimburse the town for special education expenses.

The town's auditor caught the error in a later year, and Gilead then asked for the money.

But because the reimbursement came after the fact, it caused a surplus problem. The funds have been carried since then, Jenkins said.

He said the town could now be penalized by the state, and lose approximately $1.60 on each of the $28,000 state dollars if the money is not put toward education.

Jenkins said Gilead can keep the money and avoid the penalty by setting up the scholarship fund. The plan has been approved by the state, he said.

In other school articles, the local share of the town's school foundation allocation will increase to $69,219, from last year's $58,000. Jenkins said a change in the state aid formula caused the increase.

Also going up is the NOVA price tag. It will be $20,517 -- an $8,000 jump from 1995's $12,405. Jenkins said the increase comes from the combination of an increase in Gilead NOVA student enrollment and a change in the NOVA funding formula.

Townsppeople will also be asked to

Little is controversial on Woodstock agenda

By ALISON ALOISIO

Woodstock voters will be asked Monday to approve a $479,749.39 municipal budget -- up only slightly over last year's $477,839.77.

Town manager Vern Maxfield said there are no major new items on the 55-article warrant.

The total budget, including school and county taxes, is expected to be $1,044,590.39. Last year's figure was $1,046,715.83.

The tax commitment would be reduced with $130,000 from the fund balance and $58,000 from the state revenue sharing, if voters approve.

The amount to be raised from taxes would then be $801,473.36, compared to last year's $792,620.07. The mill rate is expected to remain at $18.82 per thousand.

Selectmen are proposing $3,000 to purchase a 6,500-watt generator to supply electricity for the Town Office and town garage in case of a long-term power outage.

Maxfield said the request was prompted by a two-day outage this winter that resulted from an exploding transformer.

Voters will also be asked to approve $2,000 for a riding lawnmower to maintain lawns and ballfields.

The current mower was purchased several years ago for short-term use, and is not really large enough to do the work, according to Maxfield.

The town manager and clerk will receive raises if townspeople approve. The manager's salary would go from the current $25,652 to $27,200.

The clerk's position is currently funded at $17,490. The $18,500 proposed for this year includes both a raise and money to pay for extra help "on a limited basis," Maxfield said.

He said the road crew would also receive raises, but the amounts

Report: more Telstar students using drugs

By ALISON ALOISIO

The use of marijuana, cocaine, hallucinogens and stimulants among 1995 Telstar seniors was significantly higher than the national average, according to a recently-released survey.

The survey, done last spring, queried the district's eighth- and 12th graders about their drug and alcohol use.

The information was compiled by the American Drug and Alcohol Survey agency of Fort Collins, Colo.

Chemical health coordinator Rodney Abbott presented the results to the School Board last week.

The survey showed that among local 12th-graders, 53 percent had used marijuana in the past 12 months, compared to 31 percent nationwide. Cocaine use was 11 percent and 4 percent, respectively; stimulants were 18 and 9 percent and hallucinogens were 28 and 8 percent.

Asked if they had used marijuana in the last month, 36 percent of the seniors said they had -- compared to 19 percent nationwide.

"We are in an area where marijuana use is accepted by many people," Abbott told the board.

He also said the relatively high usage of LSD (a hallucinogen) "scared me a great deal."

Abbott said adults in the Bethel area don't see marijuana usage as a big problem -- at least not relative to the other drugs.

"There are quite a lot of adults who smoke, and that translates into acceptance," he said.

The survey showed alcohol to be the most frequently-used substance, with 75 percent of seniors saying they had used it in the last 12

Bethel Town Office staff is reshuffled

• Selectmen also OK pay hikes, hiring of full-time garage mechanic

By MICHAEL DANIELS

A reorganization of the Town Office structure was one of a number of personnel matters approved by the Bethel Board of Selectmen Monday.

The Town Office reshuffle follows the departure of long-time town clerk Merton Brown.

Under the new arrangement, former bookkeeper Nesta Littlefield will serve as department head, finance officer and deputy treasurer; former deputy clerk Christen Mason as town clerk and deputy tax collector; and billing clerk Ginny Johnston will assume additional counter-work and financial responsibilities.

In addition, a new deputy clerk will be hired to work 30 hours a week.

Under the town's personnel rules, the Bethel Board of Selectmen approve the appointment of department heads (they have approved Littlefield's), but the rest of a department's structure is at the discretion of the manager.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE LOCAL OPPOSITION TO BINGO HALL

To the Editor:

In March of 1985 Bill Wakole, an employee of the Federal Bureau of Indian Affairs, viewed the site of the proposed high stakes gambling facility in Albany. At the same time he went to the Oxford County Registry of Deeds in South Paris to review the records of the proposed site.

This project was rejected by Land Use Regulatory Commission in March of 1995. The next step was to apply for a license from the Maine Public Safety Dept. of Games of Chance. Sgt. Barry Hathaway, who reviews the applications, said none had been received.

Thomas Furee, Esq., of Portland, the tribe's lawyer, then made several snide remarks referring to those who had picked up on the rumors of a gambling facility in Albany. In a condescending and cavalier manner he was quoted in the Advertiser Democrat on Thursday, March 30 as saying people like myself were consumed by March Madness, further stating, "Isn't this the time of year when the rabbits start to turn color?"

Enough of the insults, Mr. Furee. People in the Albany area are not simpletons you can slay with your sophisticated jargon. As a resident, I know my neighbors love the area and are not interested in having it turn into another Hollywood (the casino site in Connecticut). We live here because we enjoy a quality of life that is becoming extinct in Maine.

Nine years later we are once again being broadsided by crafty attorneys and powerful political figures who want to sell out Maine.

In a conversation with Land Use Regulatory Investigator, Tim Spahr, I learned that there is currently no record of a request for zoning change in the area of the proposed site on the West Bethel Road in Albany Township.

I am concerned with the fact that the federal Indian Affairs office in Washington, D.C., was informed this past week that the land in question was to be sold to a third party. I am also concerned that a children's camp, Star Run, in Albany, has said that it has been informed that plans are being made to build a $35-million high-stakes gambling facility on the property.

I am also concerned that the state is being misled by the tribe's lawyer, Thomas Furee, Esq., who is claiming that the tribe has no interest in the property.

BACC: CLEARCUT BAN PART OF INTERNATIONAL PLOT

To the Editor:

At a February meeting, the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, after careful consideration, voted to oppose the Bethel Area Clearcut Ban which will be presented to the voters of Maine in November 1996. We also voted to embark on an educational campaign to present the facts to the people of the Bethel area and beyond.

As outlined in the facts and dependency on exactly how the "ban" is implemented, it will reduce the total harvesting in Maine by 50 to 80 percent. All forest practices, including selective harvesting, will be banned. It would be severely restricted if this referendum were to pass. This would have a devastating impact on the 60,000 plus Maine citizens and families who depend directly or indirectly on the timber industry and paper products for their livelihood.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

Stories and insights into Bethel area farming practices were provided by a panel of four men who have spent at least part of their lives earning a living from agricultural pursuits. Serving on the panel were Richard Carter, long involved in dairy farming in Middle Intervale; Raymond Buck, a former Middle Intervale poultry farmer and now well-known in Bethel for sweet corn; Wilder Kimball, long-time Rumford farmer; and Peter Haines, former East Bethel dairy farmer who now grows and sells hay, Ox driving, filling silos, spring plowing, selling eggs, loading hay, milking cows, etc., were all part of the evening's fare provided in some cases with notable humor. The late Clara Jackson of nearby Milton Plantation was cited as an example of a successful woman farmer. The importance of farming in the area's past was emphasized throughout the evening, but its decline in this area was noted. There are just a handful of farms left in Bethel, and it was hoped by the panel that they would survive so that the area's agricultural tradition would continue well into the town's third century.

During the business portion of the meeting, president Charles Raymond announced that the next monthly meeting would be held on April 4 and feature a slide presentation on Bethel photographer Nettie Cummins Maxim by Blaine Mills of the Greenwood Historical Society. The "Gift of the Month" was a genealogy of the Charles F. and Ella Davis Abbott family of Bethel from John E. Jacobsen, Jr. of New York, N.Y. President Raymond congratulated society curator Randall H. Bennett on the successful completion of the Richardson Lakes book project and praised all who had made it possible. The room was filled with copies of the book that had just arrived from the printer in Berlin, N.H. The president also called attention to the old house conference in Portland on April 22. The evening was concluded with a variety of refreshments featuring peanuts marking the centenary of peanut butter and Cracker Jacks. The liquid refreshment was switched, a familiar drink often served in hay fields to the thirsty.

Whiffle Ball and The Flyworks

By MIKE BROWN

Maine legislators into the third week of March, and only a couple of weeks away from adjournment, and they were getting mighty antsy last week about money. Really?

The average legislator, and most above and below the line, haven't a clue where Maine's revenue goes. But that's not all their fault when departments and agencies and even the governor misrepresent, crunch and cook the numbers.

Even the shrewd, bane-off Productivity Task Force committee, supposedly saving $45 million, is floating today money requests, or so says the appropriation committee which is trying to understand Gov. Angus King's whiffle balls.

For the past couple of months, King's administrators have testified before committees that they can downsize their departments in compliance with the task force mandate. The reduced numbers are booked. Now comes the same administrators asking for supplemental moneys to cover "unforeseen" costs.

It was never explained adequately to taxpayers that Gov. King's budget was $300 million more than his predecessor, Jock McKernan, so why was a tinker dam $45-million productivity task force patch a "savings?"

It was not fully explained to taxpayers why the Department of Human Services "found" some $60 million under its feather bed when all previous DHS testimony said there was only cobwebs.

It was never fully explained to taxpayers by the Department of Transportation, and Gov. King, why Maine desperately needed a $35-million turnpike gimmick bond to broker Maine bridge work because, they said, the account was maxed out. Then "finding" $34 million in the same account after the people passed the referendum bond issue.

Just about everywhere one looks into state government books there are rip-offs.

One love boat example. Despite the "only necessary" out-of-state travel edict by Gov. King, and even his predecessor McKernan, the activity is rampant and arguably necessary. The champion junketeer is the University of Maine where there is turmoil a plenty among athletic program ethics and even law breaking. And where faculty is fighting so-called downsizing of personnel rosters and programs. And to stay the course the UM administration keeps jacking up tuition fees.

Well, between Oct. 1 and Dec. 31, 1995, the out-of-state travel by UM employees amounted to $981,172. A big chunk of this nearly $1-million tax travelogue coupon was clipped by sports teams. In October, for instance, the football team's steak in eggs trip to Buffalo, N.Y., cost $43,863.

In the same three-month period -- football team to Orlando, $45,360; women's basketball team to Alabama, $12,166; two West Coast trips (same days) to Seattle and Vancouver by hockey and basketball teams, $37,352; men's and women's swim teams to Naples, Fla., $10,324.

It wasn't all ball games and swim fins that were rock boating around the country on taxpayer dollars. Academic foreign flying fish were numerous. UM's Bruce Nickerson traveled to Beijing, China ($6,868) to attend an Asian Fisheries Forum while Beals Island lobstermen were home alone eating salt fish and pork scraps.

UM's George Higgins traveled to Sweden ($2,419) to be an examiner for a thesis on defense whoshe, Maine's? Colin Martinal flew to Rome ($2,600) to present a psychology lecture. Ah yes, Rome in November.

Maine's Lobster Promotion Council, which is a state government hybrid in that it's an "instrument" of the state doing its own accounting thing without state oversight but funded entirely by a surtax on Maine lobster licenses, was fluttering about the country doing supermarket promotions for probably Canadian lobsters during November and December to the tonalloy tune of $2,274.

The UM travel is the most interesting, however, because of the almost $1 million spent on flyworks but also what moneys from where bought the travel tickets. The UM breaks its out-of-state travel down into six ledgers. Certain ledgers are restricted gifts, dedicated funds and restricted grants and contracts.

However, of the total $981,172 the UM spent on out-of-state (and country) travel in the past three months of 1995, $706,904, or 72 percent, was from Ledger 2 which is solely student tuition fees and state appropriation. It might be well for Maine citizens to inform their legislators to check the love boat manifests when UM's flagship poop deck starts threatening to increase tuition fees and begging poverty before the state legislature.

The use of some traveling is to inspire the imagination but there is also reality in excessive flights of fancy from a down-home nest thinly lined with Maine tax dollars.

Fire damages Bennett's Upholstery

BETHEL--An early-morning fire caused extensive damage to Bennett's Upholstery on Mechanic Street Tuesday. The fire started in a propane heater in the upholstery shop, and was discovered when a smoke alarm in an upstairs apartment went off. The building remains structurally intact, but Mark Bennett lost considerable stock, materials, and $2,800 of antiques that he had brought into the building that day, Bennett said the damage was covered by insurance, and he hopes to reopen soon.

Bus backs over car

BETHEL--There were no injuries Monday morning when a SAD44 school bus backed over a car on Church Street. Bus driver Erland Scribner, 65, of Bethel, had stopped at the intersection of Park Street to pick up some children, according to police chief Dale Bellman. When they did not come out of their house, Scribner started to drive off. The children then appeared, and Scribner backed up to get them. But he did not see a car behind him driven by Linda Morgan, 47, of Bethel. The bus went up over the car's hood, Bellman said. Morgan's car sustained $2,000 in damages. The bus was not damaged.

Waters muddled in spring issue

WOODSTOCK--The options for reopening the Route 26 roadside spring in Bryant Pond are "getting more complicated," according to Jim Chandler of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District. The spring was closed by MDOT last fall after a water test showed an unsatisfactory coliform level. Chandler had hoped the spring could be reopened under the condition that the water be tested regularly. But after consulting the state Rural Water Association, he learned there may also be a traffic safety issue, due to the spring's proximity to the road. Contamination of the spring by water splashed from the road was also a concern, he said. Chandler hopes to meet soon with parties interested in the spring to discuss other options. For more information call Chandler at 743-7019 or 674-2963.

Changes in Newry mail on the way

NEWRY--Newry's rural-delivery mail now coming out of Bethel will come out of the Newry Post Office once new E-911 addresses go into effect, according to administrative assistant Sylvia Gray. Selectmen met with postal officials Tuesday to discuss the address changeover process.

House chosen for film

ANDOVER--Producers have chosen the Chandler Estate as the setting for the movie "The Myth of Fingerprints," starring ER actor Noah Wyle. The house is on Route 120, just outside the village of Andover. The story is about a Thanksgiving family reunion among four adult children and their parents. Most of the scenes will be of the family in the kitchen, around the dining room table, or talking to each other in the bedrooms. Other scenes are expected to be shot in Andover village, Bethel and Bryant Pond. Filming is expected to take place in April and May.

SAD44 looks at adding programs

BETHEL--The SAD44 School Board continued its work on the FY97 budget this week. Administrators hope to restore some programs lost in previous budget cuts, while still holding to a proposed budget that would not increase the local share. The plan calls for putting classes in foreign language, industrial technology, and home economics back in the middle and/or high schools. Administrators will also study the feasibility of having full-day kindergarten in all SAD44 schools, financed by eliminating the current mid-day kindergarten bus runs. The findings will be presented to the board in late March or early April. The next regular board meeting is March 26 at the Crescent Park School.

Man fined in boating accident

FARMINGTON--Homer E. Ambrose of Jay was given a suspended sentence after pleading no contest to charges following a boating accident which injured three children last July on Locke Pond in Chesterville. Ambrose was originally charged with operating a motorboat under the influence, operating a motorboat to endanger, failure to stay at least 200 feet from the shoreline while towing a waterskier, and failure to have an observer while towing a waterskier. Ambrose was towing his son in an inner tube, when he allegedly drove his motorboat into a twelve-foot inflatable raft carrying three children. The children fell into the water, surfaced, and were struck by the tow line. The three children all sustained severe rope burns. The OUI charge was dropped when he pled no contest to the other charges. Ambrose was given a six-month suspended sentence, one year's probation, fined a total of $700 and ordered to pay $998 restitution.

Man charged with terrorizing

WATERFORD--An 18-year-old Waterford man, Jason Brown, was arrested last Tuesday on charges he terrorized his family by threatening to blow up their home with a mixture of gasoline and gunpowder. The family reported the teenager had been sniffing gasoline for two or three days. Deputy Tim Ontenaga said family members reported Brown threatening them and some friends at the house Tuesday, saying he would mix gasoline and gunpowder from shotgun shells to create an explosion. Containers of gasoline and shotgun shells were found upstairs and the house reeked of gas fumes when police eventually went inside. Brown was charged with terrorizing, criminal threatening, and causing a false public alarm. He was taken to the Oxford County Jail in South Paris and is expected to be arraigned in 11th District Court there Thursday.

Gas pipeline planned

PORTLAND--The Portland Natural Gas Transmission System announced Thursday it has applied for federal approval to build a 242-mile natural gas pipeline across Northern New England. The new pipeline, which developers hope to put in service on Nov. 1, 1998, would link the Trans-Canada Pipelines at Jay, Vt. with the Tennessee Gas Pipeline in Haverhill, Mass. The new 20-inch pipeline would replace a smaller pipeline that was converted from oil to gas in 1987 and is being switched back to oil. By bringing larger quantities of natural gas into the region, distributors say they will be able to serve paper mills and communities that have never had access to the fuel. The route will parallel the Portland Pipe Line right of way between the Canadian border and the Portland area, then swinging southward to Massachusetts.

Ski racing in eastern Maine?

GRAND FALLS TOWNSHIP--A Deblois woman is working to develop a ski resort on Passadumkeag Mountain that would provide eastern Maine skiers with an area suitable for training and racing. Robin Brooks, president of Ski Passadumkeag Mountain Association, wants to purchase or lease about 500 acres of land on a 1,049-foot peak, which would offer skiers an 800-foot vertical drop. She said many of Maine's 15 ski resorts are in the western part of the state, forcing skiers in eastern Maine to travel long distances. Brooks said the development would include three or four chairlifts and several trails. The resort also would offer summer activities, such as mountain biking, hiking and horseback riding.

Skimming snowmobiler dies

LACONIA, N.H.--A Massachusetts man injured in the snowmobile craze of skimming across open water areas died Thursday in Lakes Regional General Hospital, Richard Torpey, 39, of Billerica, Mass., has been in critical condition since Sunday when his snowmobile sank in Lake Winnepesaukee. He was underwater for an estimated 10 minutes before he was pulled out. Fire Chief George Landry said that since Jan. 1, his department has been called 11 times to Weirs Beach for reports that a snowmobile either went into the water or a rider was injured. However, officials say the danger has failed to deter snowmobilers, and even as Torpey was being taken away in an ambulance, the skimming continued. Laconia officials were looking into ways to stop the practice. City Manager Daniel McKeever said the city has closed the trail access to the lake from city property. There are other accesses.

BROWN OPENS ANTIQUE SHOP--Saturday was opening day for "Merton Brown's Antiques and Collectibles," at the Philbrook Place barn in Bethel. The shop will be open until June, when Brown and his family plan to move to Kennebunk. Items for sale include several Brown has owned since he was in high school. "I've always been a collector," he said. Most of the pieces are turn-of-the-century- and 1920s-vintage. While his purpose is to sell items he "doesn't need to move," Brown said the experience will also give him a taste of retail sales. He will also consider accepting some items on consignment. ## From the Bethel Bicentennial Committee

By JIM ROSE

The winner of February's raffle for the gift certificate at Ruthie's was Sandi Endicott. This month's raffle is for a $100 gift certificate from each of the businesses within the renovated Philbrook Place, for a total prize value of $600.

Final approval has been given for the poster of Bethel's barns. Titled "The Age of Barns," the poster is a collection of 12 photographs of different barns in various seasons, providing a glimpse into, and a reminder of, our agricultural roots. An informational sheet will accompany the poster, giving historical information about each barn. The posters should be ready for sale within six weeks and will cost $10.

The Education Committee is now making headway with the History of Bethel Pageant for Aug. 9. It will be comprised of 16 or 17 scenes depicting life through the last 200 years. Aspiring singers and/or actors are invited to contact Natalie Timberlake to express interest in performing.

A reminder that Bicentennial Commemorative Coins are on sale at Preb's, Bethel Savings Bank, and Key Bank. Calendars, T-shirts, and sweatshirts are available at the Village Sampler, Ruthie's, the Moses Mason House, and Preb's.

The next meeting of the Bicentennial Committee will be Tuesday, April 16 at 7 p.m. at the home of Stanley Howe. All are invited to attend.

Clean water...

It's more than just a pretty picture.

Clean water is essential for our tourism and fishing industries - our health and our recreation.

But Maine's water quality is in danger. Many lakes, rivers and coastal waters are threatened by pollution from run-off and toxic chemicals.

There are things you can do on your home and community to protect Maine's waters.

From the Bethel Police log:

Rescuers have trouble finding residence

On March 15 at 8:22 a.m. Bethel Rescue was toned to respond to a child with head injuries somewhere on the Northwest Bethel Road, possibly in Gilead. The directions given to and put out by dispatch were erroneous and confusing. The police officer believed he knew the approximate location. He was given permission by dispatch to help Rescue find the site. It was located in Gilead at 8:47 a.m.

Thursday, March 14

At 5:14 p.m. A Bethel Park Apartments resident reported several children, including her daughter, said a vehicle had entered the apartment complex at a high rate of speed, nearly striking them. Police spoke with the driver, who denied the incident. The driver was given a verbal warning, reminding him the speed limit is 15 mph.

Friday, March 15

At 12:14 a.m. Peter J. Dee, 47, of New Canaan, Conn., was arrested for OUI stemming from a single vehicle roll-over accident on the Sunday River Road S-curves.

Saturday, March 16

At 11:00 p.m. an Oxford County Sheriff's deputy requested police accompany him on a call regarding several intoxicated juveniles in the parking lot of the Summit Hotel at Sunday River Ski Resort. The officer stood by while the deputy and Sunday River security dealt with the juveniles. There were no arrests, and all the juveniles were released to their parents.

Sunday, March 17

At 11:42 a.m. a caller from the West Bethel Union Church reported two men had come into the church. When confronted by the complainant, they said they were looking for the minister. They later said they were out of gas and needed money. The men then left, saying they were headed to Barre, Vermont. The information was given to New Hampshire police departments.

This report highlights points of interest from the Bethel Police Department log, but does not include all reports of police activity. To reach the Bethel Police Department, call 911 in emergency situations, 824-3437 in non-emergencies. An answering machine takes calls when an officer is not in the office.

New full-time mechanic

The board also gave approval for the Highway Department to advertise for a full-time mechanic.

Highway foreman Bob Pilgrim told the board Monday that he was seeking a skilled mechanic, preferably someone well-versed in diesel mechanics, who could also fill in as an equipment operator, especially during long snow storms.

Having operators working for overlong periods of time is dangerous, Pilgrim said, "because plowing snow can put someone to sleep when they are tired."

He also argued that part of the cost of hiring a mechanic would be offset by the increased ability to do work in house, rather than sending it out, and by raising the level of preventive maintenance.

"A full time mechanic will be there to do preventive maintenance, and to get to potential problems before they happen. Right now we're just stumbling along because we don't have the time to do much more than regular service on the equipment," he said.

Money for a full-time mechanic had already been included in the town's FY96 budget, so no formal vote by the selectmen was required. They informally expressed a consensus that the Highway Department should hire and advertise the position.

Town employee pay hikes

The board also agreed to a number of proposed pay increases for town employees.

The positions, along with their FY97 and FY98 salaries are as follows:

Board members: $21,475 to $21,900; police sergeant: $22,950 to $23,500; police officer: $19,000 to $19,500; finance officer: $21,000 to $21,500; town clerk: $18,500 to $19,000.

There is no increase for the police chief, whose current salary is $28,500. The selectmen's salaries were approved as follows: selectman: $8,800 to $9,000; subselectman: $8,800 to $9,000; standard operator: $8,800 to $9,000; equipment operator: $8,800 to $9,000; driver: $8,800 to $9,000; wastewater treatment operator: $8,800 to $9,000; assistant equipment operator: $8,800 to $9,000; maintenance worker: $8,800 to $9,000; police sergeant: $22,950 to $23,500; police officer: $19,000 to $19,500; finance officer: $21,000 to $21,500; town clerk: $18,500 to $19,000.

The board also agreed to a number of proposed pay increases for town employees.

Oil spill

with still more sand.

Soon an impromptu sand-and-plywood dam was in place -- and the oil was halted well before it reached the small pond at the foot of the hill.

Monk praised the teamwork at the scene. "Everyone understood what the other person was doing -- we could communicate with just hand signals," he said. "It was really slick."

The quick, concerted action effectively prevented any serious environmental damage, according to Steve Eufemia of the DEP's Bureau of Oil and Hazardous Materials.

"It looks like hell," Eufemia said, standing next to the contaminated stretch of stream, "but there should be no serious long-term problems."

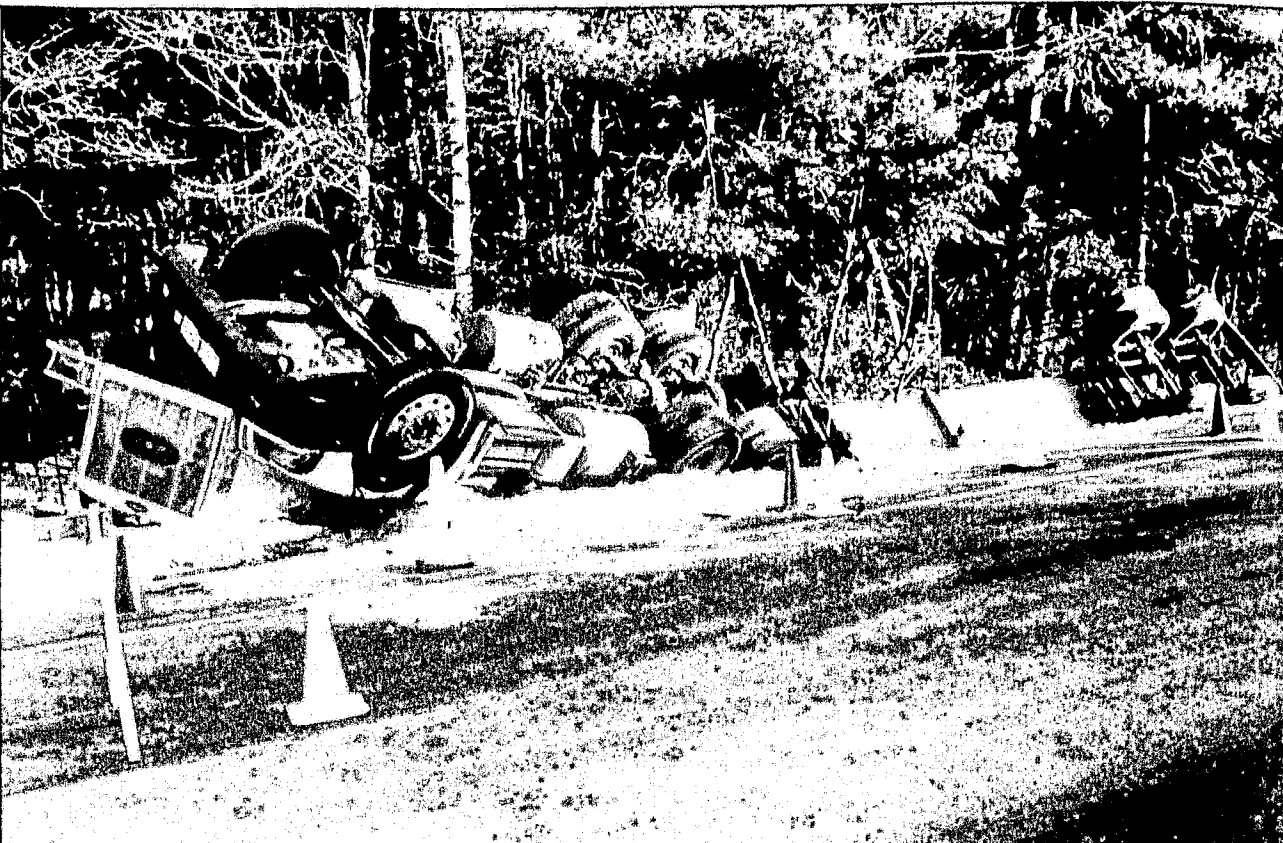

Following the accident, Route 26 traffic was detoured around the spill site via Rumford Avenue and Route 232.

The detour will likely be needed for much of this week, as clean-up crews continue to remove the remaining oil. (The road has been reopened in the evening and on weekends, when the crews are not working).

Among the other organizations responding to the accident were Tri-Town Rescue, fire departments from Bethel, Dixfield, Peru and Rumford, the Bore-Cascade HAZMAT Team, and state and county law enforcement personnel.

LUCKY ESCAPE--The driver of the tractor trailer that rolled over on Route 26 last week had to be extracted with the jaws of life. The cargo, however, found its own way out through a six-foot hole in the side of the tank. Timothy Bean of Locke Mills, the driver, escaped without serious injury. The accident is still under investigation by the Oxford County Sheriff's Department. (Photo by Michael Daniels)

Bean, 27, of Locke Mills was not seriously injured, but volunteers from the Bethel Fire Department had to use the jaws of life to extricate him from the cab.

The initial police investigation ruled out weather and road conditions as factors in the accident, according to state trooper Christopher Cox.

A driver test was administered to Bean at Stephens Memorial Hospital, and his logbook and other records were examined.

The accident is still under investigation by the Oxford County Sheriff's Department, according to Capt. Jim Michon.

Telstar juniors and seniors spend a week on the job

By AMY HALE

Telstar juniors and seniors left behind their traditional schooling last week for a taste of the working world.

After a month and a half of preparation, last Monday found them hard at work at businesses all over Bethel, many surrounding areas, and in some cases, other states.

"Career week is job exploration so that students can make better decisions about career planning. The biggest part is for them to decide what they do and do not want to do," explained Telstar Guidance counselor Elizabeth LaVallee.

Junior Stephanie Curley saw Career Week in a similar light. "It gives you direction and helps you decide what you want to do," she said.

Students spent the week job shadowing in their chosen field and learned everything from teaching snowboarding, to running a business, to making lures, jigs and caring for live bait.

Although the work experiences varied from student to student, there was one lesson almost everyone seemed to learn.

"We didn't know so much went into running a place like this," said Sarah Fitzherbert and Alyssa Howe, who spent time at the Rostay Inn.

And after an exhausting day in Norma Salway's kindergarten class, junior Rachel Fogg admitted, "I thought this would be easier. I'm learning a lot of new things."

Most of the students used a simple logic in deciding how to spend their week -- do what interests you. Curley, who spent her week as a snowboard instructor said, "I wanted to do something I could have fun at. I'm having a blast."

Junior Eva Paul, who worked at The Emerald Florist explained, "My parents owned a green house. I really love the smell of dirt. It makes me think of when I was a kid."

Not only does Career Week help students prepare for the future, but in LaVallee's words, "It also gives students the chance to make a connection with a possible future employer or to establish a good reference."

Career Week began about 16 years ago, according to Telstar Middle School teacher Tom Riley. It was part of a program started when the Department of Education in Augusta requested that all schools in the state teach career education.

Fogg said the job-shadowing experience is worthwhile, even if a student ends up disliking the job.

"It's better to experience what you think you want to do during Career Week and find out now," she said, "than to make a mistake later and be stuck in a job you don't like."

(Telstar junior Amy Hale spent Career Week at the Citizen.)

'Like riding with the Dukes of Hazard'

By ALISON ALOISIO

Four Telstar juniors got a Career Week lesson on life in the fast lane, when they job-shadowed Captain Jim Miclon of the Oxford County Sheriff's Department.

Jessica Pike, Carrie Mason, Brian Inman and Jana Mason were riding with Miclon last Tuesday morning when the call came that a Waterford man was threatening to set off an explosion in his house.

"We all wanted to go," said Pike. "He (Miclon) asked us if we had our seat belts buckled."

They took off for Waterford, following two deputy sheriffs' cars. Pike said they were traveling "about 90." She also said they went up into the air at one point, after hitting a frost heave.

Miclon's version of the ride was considerably tamer. He said they were traveling at a safe speed -- even a little slower than usual because the students were with him.

He also said the car did not leave the ground when it hit the frost heave.

The man who was the occasion for the trip to Waterford, Jason Brown, gave himself up to the officers shortly after they arrived.

Pike and Carrie Mason said their parents took the kids' experience in stride. For the students, the ride was definitely the highlight of the week. "No one was scared," Pike said. "It was great. It was like riding with the Dukes of Hazard."

Agnes Gray School

by Marta Clements

It's kindergarten registration time for the 1996-97 school year. If you have a child, or know of a child, who will turn five on or before Oct. 15, 1996 please call the Agnes Gray School at 674-2332 before May 1. We need to know how many children will be enrolling.

Our next parent volunteer meeting will be Tuesday, April 9 at 7 p.m. The volunteer group is working on fundraising to provide playground equipment, field trips and other extra equipment for our school, as well as providing help in the classroom and outside of the classroom. We here at school appreciate all their work, and hope they feel a real sense of satisfaction for these very worthwhile activities.

One item from each classroom this week is: The kindergarten class is beginning a science unit on nutrition. Katy Hoffman visited both the kindergarten and first grade to talk about nutrition. The first-graders are welcoming a new teammate, Gregory Noyse.

Mrs. Loper's second-graders are learning about air and are measuring wind with wind gauges that they made and are checking out the flight of paper airplanes.

Mrs. Merrill's third-grade Super-brains presented a talent show to the whole school this past week. There were numerous talents presented and enjoyed by the audience: magic tricks, piano playing, dancing, karate and wrestling to name a few. Every child participated.

Mrs. Koskela's fourth grade enjoyed a pizza party on Friday. Mr. Litchfield's fourth-graders are working on multiplication with money.

My fifth-graders have identified their mystery powders, and are now working on experiments to identify the powders when two are mixed together.

The sixth-graders are working with graphs and are learning about the range, scale and intervals of graphs. Congratulations to Jessica Duplisea for winning the spelling bee in her sixth-grade class. Also to Amber Gallant for coming in second.

A.M.C. TELEMAR CAMP

The Appalachian Mountain Club has scheduled its "Gulf of Slides Telemark Camp" for April 6-7.

This workshop is designed for those who enjoy the thrill of downhill skiing on 3-pin equipment in the backcountry. Two days will be spent in the rugged Gulf of Slides, practicing step turns, jump turns, telemark turns, and other techniques on steep terrain. Participants have the option of camping out or returning to Pinkham Notch Visitor Center in the evening.

This is not a beginners' course. The workshop is open to AMC members and non-members alike.

For reservations and workshop information, please write: Workshop Registration, Appalachian Mountain Club, PO Box 298, Gorham, N.H. 03581, or call (603) 466-2727.

Drug use

months. The percentage of users was fairly close to national figures.

But Abbott said it worried him that 20 percent of the seniors responded they used alcohol, and 25 percent used drugs, "while driving around."

In comparing overall results for the three years of the survey, ADAS found the percent of 12th-graders considered to be at high or moderate risk from drug usage jumped in 1995.

In 1992, 9.3 percent were considered at high risk, and 18.5 percent at moderate risk. In 1995, the percentages were 17.6 and 35.1, respectively.

Abbott said high-risk students are defined as habitual users who do drugs several times a week. While they are not necessarily drug-dependent, they are at a very high risk of becoming dependent.

Moderate risk students would be those who use drugs frequently, such as on weekends, he said.

Abbott said he talked with last year's seniors about the survey results, and "some expressed concern."

Is the survey valid?

Last year's senior class had 52 members -- a very small class, even by Telstar standards. Abbott said the small numbers could cause a wider variation in results compared to two previous surveys, done in 1988 and 1992.

But he also said the survey used questions with fictitious drug names to try to flag students giving exaggerated answers.

The percent of eighth-graders using drugs was generally less than the seniors, but there were no comparisons to nationwide use among that age group.

Alcohol was also the most popular choice of eighth-graders, with 63 percent responding they had used it in the past 12 months.

The percent of at-risk eighth-graders also increased over the first two years of the survey. In 1992, none were considered at high risk, while 10.3 percent were at moderate risk. In 1995 those percentages rose to 8.9 and 23.5 percent, respectively.

Abbott said while the survey results did not panic him, they emphasize the need for district teachers at all levels to "stick to the curriculum on drugs and alcohol."

He saw some good news in the eighth grade results.

"Fifty-five percent of the eighth-graders said they had not tried drugs (other than alcohol) and never would. Our job is to support them in that decision," he said.

Abbott said parents with questions about drug use may contact him at Telstar, or call Brian Stowell of the Regional Partnership at 836-2415.

East Stoneham

by Eleanor Nelson

Hi readers: What beautiful weather the past few days! Don't you just love it, and next week when you read this, it will really be spring.

Well, the Girl Scout cookies have arrived and of course we got a batch of the bad ones -- hard as a brick. Oh well, the chocolate-mint ones were ok and the Girl Scouts are a good organization. Hopefully, they will have better bakers next year.

Eleanor Nelson took Gladys Kilgore to Norway on Tuesday for medicine and various errands.

Arthur Adams' daughter, Sherri, and Eddie Collins from Monmouth and son David came today (Wednesday) to celebrate Arthur's birthday. They stayed to dinner with him and Phyllis.

On March 9, the Stoneham Republican's Caucus was held at the meeting room in the Stoneham Fire Station. There were five people present, and the meeting was conducted by chairperson Eleanor Nelson, who was re-elected. Also, vice-chairperson Ralph Brown and secretary-treasurer Harriett Brown were re-elected. Delegates to the GOP State Convention on May 31 and June 1 will be Eleanor Nelson and Ralph Brown as alternate delegate.

Don't forget, members, the Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Hannah F. Richardson Tent 19, meeting will take place at the church vestry on March 27 at 7 p.m.

Clifford and Pearl Walker from Mechanic Falls called on us Wednesday afternoon. Pearl and I sat beside each other every day for almost nine years at Norway Footwear office. It was a nice day for visiting.

The Knight Riders Snowmobile Club met on Tuesday night at the Fire Station meeting room with nine members present. They voted to buy a snow machine from Bill Hunt and to fix the track on another machine.

Secretary Ann Wyman submitted her resignation, but hopefully she will reconsider. It was good to have Alice Harmon back after having had surgery. She is recovering nicely from her recent stay in the hospital.

Crystal and David Wallace did some work for Frances Grant one day last week.

Greenwood City

by Colista Morgan

In my columns I have written so many times about the seasons and the out-of-doors, as seen through my mind and eyes. In place of cities that crumble, machines that rust, and governments that come and go, I find nature more interesting. The mountains still stand, rivers flow to the sea, trees grow and make forests. These reflect the view of the world from where I live, a vantage point, a rural countryside, which is a hill-and-valley location.

Some folks loath March with its storms, but to me the last two weeks of March are often delightful. Snow still sticks stubbornly to some hillsides and ridges but fields begin to be bare. Certain song birds return that have been gone since autumn. A fox or deer can be seen moving stealthily against March's bare backdrop.

There is a mystery which I think about each new spring; how can a seed "know" when to start to sprout? How can sap at the very root of a tree "know" when to start to rise to nourish a twig for a leaf?

Men have a clock, a star and a calendar, so they know when to expect spring and other seasons.

Now the days are longer, both morning and evening. There is a succession in these days that makes the heartbeat quicken. No two days are alike, the slow but certain change is here. The green world is waiting.

March moves down the valley and April whispers from the hilltop, "spring."

The fishermen and those who are just out to view the scenery on a beautiful day have enjoyed themselves this week outside. I saw a lady pushing a baby in a carriage go by one sunny day.

Bradley Payne is recovering well from surgery on March 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Awall called for a short visit on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman left on March 6 for a vacation to Arizona and other places.

Lisa Piccirillo celebrated her fifth birthday this last week. She, with her mother, father and brother were at the Holt's on Sunday and received her gift from them.

David and Mary were at the Holt's on Sunday.

Call to Worship
on Sunday,
March 10, 9
a.m., was held at
Owen and Sue

residence, with Pastor Rodney Hanscom, wife Kathy, daughter Nancy, Sylvia and Bill Wight and Gil Seeley. The Message of the Day was: "For God or self," from Isaiah 55-6, "Seek ye the Lord while He is near." A reading from St. John 4 was given by Nancy and a special was done by Gil: "Peace" -- "If Christ-like contacts were made by all, there would be no war. Mutual goodwill and harmony would prevail, and the Kingdom of God on earth would be brought into manifestation." Coffee and refreshments were enjoyed. Everyone is welcome to attend these services.

The Newry Mothers Club met Monday night, March 11, at the Town Building. It was opened with a prayer by substitute president Gil Seeley. Olive Anderson, secretary-treasurer, held the roll call and reported on the incoming mail, cards sent to shut-ins, etc., and brought the finances up to date. Catherine Newell, director of Adult Education in the Telstar Region, would like to know if we are interested in her coming to talk on the program. We hope she can come at the next meeting, April 8, at 7:30 p.m. The mystery prize was won by Karlene Bachelder. The snack committee for next meeting will be Sylvia Wight and Karlene. Coffee, etc., was enjoyed during some more discourse.

Only three members of the "Newry Bowling Gang" were at the Oxford Bowling Lanes in Rumford one day last week: Karlene Bachelder, Gil Seeley, and Olive Anderson. Rena Powers was a guest. Karlene was high on both the singles and doubles. She had two games. Gil had three spares and Olive had one spare.

Kevin Wight, son of Brad and Brenda Wight, celebrated his 7th birthday on March 8 with family and friends. His Mom made two cakes. Happy Birthday, Kevin!

"Briefly"...For all you cat and dog lovers -- A dog called 911 and saved his master's life. A cat brings down high blood pressure. Throughout history, domestic animals have sacrificed their lives to save their masters. Pets are very forgiving and are capable of giving love that is totally unconditional, much more than some human beings. Cats are known to be able to utter 23 different speech sounds. Humans do about 26 to 30. Do you talk to your pets? Pets are known to contribute to the health and well-being of their friends and help them live a longer and happier life. Amen.

A beautiful morning for the Ides of March!
I returned home
Sunday evening
after spending

two weeks with the Bean-Turner family in Otisfield and the weekend with the Adams family in Hanover. Ethel drove me to Portland one day and Auburn-Lewiston another day to visit Sylvia Swan and family. Derek Adams was home from South Lake Tahoe, Calif., for the week and Erin Adams was up from Portland for the weekend.

A family party was enjoyed Sunday afternoon to honor Derek's homecoming and Herbie's birthday, tho' belated. Light refreshments were served, including cakes and ice cream. Attending were Norma and David Salway, Mary and Bud Paine of Bethel, Ethel and Craig Turner and Jon Bean of Otisfield, and Sylvia Swan, Sheri, Tami and Christopher from Auburn, Sarah Bean from Otisfield and friend Mike, Barbara and Dick Burns of Hanover and Lee Buotte of Rumford.

Norma Salway was in Portland on Saturday to bring Kaitly Gatchell home with her after attending the Wainfleet School Carnival.

Bill Bancroft is now recuperating at home after being confined at the Norway hospital, and Norway Convalescent Home for several weeks.

Sarah Bean of Otisfield, who is home from Wheelock College, and friend Mike were callers here Monday afternoon.

It's lovely how some people From the moment of their birth, Bring a lot of happiness And goodness to this earth. They look at everybody As their sisters and their brothers, And never tire of reaching out And giving help to others.

They make your good times happen. They know when something's wrong.

They comfort and encourage you When problems come along. They always warm your heart And put a smile upon your face... It's lovely how some people Make this world a better place. -- Amanda Bradley --

Bethel

Sandra Gunther, Caroline Merrill, Bethel; Gina Haggett, Shrewsbury, Mass.; Darlene Merrill, Durham; Judy Murphy, Oakland; Heidi Bakken, New York, N.Y.; Anna Elise, Halburg, Denmark; Klara, Villy and Bergit Aas-Hansen, of Herefoss, Norway (Europe) have returned to their homes after a two-week family gathering at Kissimmee, Fla.

The first week was extremely enjoyable, but the second week they were involved in a head-on collision involving the rental van and a pickup truck. The driver of the pickup was in the wrong lane so the collision was unavoidable. Four of the seven in the van were hospitalized and required surgery. The other three were treated and released with stitches and one with a broken collarbone.

(Items for the Bethel town column are always welcomed. Please include your name and telephone number.)

South Woodstock

Congratulations to Rex and Linda Croteau of Bridgton on the birth of a son, Triston Robert.

born Feb. 23. Maternal grandparents are Pierette Polley and Wallace Polley. Paternal grandparents are Robert and Pauline Croteau of South Woodstock.

Richard Wing stopped and visited with Oscar Annis for a while this past weekend. Richard worked with Oscar for many years and tries to get to see him every so often. They talked about old times and had a good time visiting.

Sports awards pictures I noticed in the paper for Telstar High School were Brandy Poland and Becky Chandler.

I've been taking Sarah Hart, my granddaughter, to work at Bonanza in Oxford a few times this week. Sarah has been serving as head hostess.

I had a short visit with my niece, Judy Brown, in front of Cumberland Farms in South Paris recently. I don't get to see her very often and we made plans to get to visit sometime next week.

One school bus was late recently. Over an hour late and from what I hear the kids were going wild waiting for the bus to pick them up.

The March meeting of the Historical Society featured a lively presentation by Didi the Dowser. Increasing membership was discussed. In April the curator will speak briefly on British and American Literature.

Quote of the Week: "I've learned that horsepower was something that was much safer when only horses had it."

Upton

by
Amy Geiling

Happy Spring! You can break out your mud boots, but don't store your snow boots, skis or snowmobiles yet, folks. As I look out at the field across from the Upton Trading Post, the snow on the snowmobile path appears to be thinning.

With the springlike weather, ice fishing has been the hot sport, and the lake has been producing well for local fishermen. According to one successful ice fisherman in town, the ice on Umbagog is still plenty thick.

Last Wednesday, I was talking with Tammy Tisdale, assistant manager with the Lake Umbagog National Wildlife Refuge. She mentioned that she had received reports of two adult eagles seen on the Maralloway River during the week of March 3.

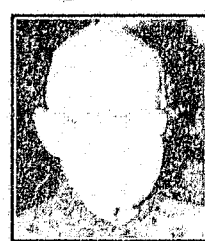

"No news makes me snooze," is my new motto since becoming Upton's correspondent. I know at least one townstolk who will appreciate the play on words.

Sue Nelson reports that the following Upton students were their respective grade winners in the recent N.H. State Jump Rope Contest. Steven LaVallee was the eighth grade boys' winner for both the 60-second speed and most Double Unders Contests. Courtney LaVallee was the first-grade boys' winner for the most Forward Jumps Contest. Jessica LaVallee was the girls' kindergarten winner for the most Forward Jumps. Congratulations!

Now for Trivia...Did you know that Louise Dickinson Rich wrote the popular "We Took to the Woods" while living on the Rapid River.

West Paris
by Russell Yates
Howdy, friends.
This is Monday morning, the 11th day of March, and what a nice morning it is. Yesterday was beautiful also, and some "old timers" might call it a "weather breeder." During my lifetime, I have heard that said many times.

The ladies of West Paris Grange are planning to hold their spring Craft, Food and White Elephant Sale on May 11 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. To reserve the needed tables, contact Peggy Blake at 674-3872 or Mary Lovejoy at 674-2147. The price of a table will be $3 as in the past. The Cookie Walk was very successful last fall and will be featured again this spring. Mark it down on your calendar so that you'll be sure to remember the date.

Oxford Pomona Grange will meet at Franklin Grange hall in Bryant Pond on April 2 with a 6:30 p.m. supper and 7:30 meeting. The Pomona degree will be worked at this meeting, and we need candidates. We will also be inspected by the State Grange officer at that time.

There will be a dance at the Locke Mills Town Hall on March 23, with more of that good old-time music by the Richard Felt Orchestra. Because of the storm, West Paris Grange meeting will be held on March 21. Bring your cherry/nut cake to be judged at this meeting.

Monday and Tuesday, Hope Lovejoy was in Portland to compete in a Dea States Competition that was sponsored by the school. She was very surprised when her name was called for winning third place in her category.

Yesterday, Leona Farnum of Bethel was a visitor at the Lovejoy home.

The Lovejoy girls spent time yesterday tapping maple trees. They have good courage and I hope they have good luck with their endeavor. This is an annual occurrence at the Lovejoy home.

Tammy Farnum delivered Girl Scout cookies at the Lovejoy's this morning.

The weather wasn't bad last Monday, so Laura came down from East Andover and joined us for a trip to Lewiston and Auburn. Peggy's typewriter was giving her problems and she wanted to take it back to Service Merchandise, where she bought it, to see if they could correct the problem. They inspected it but had no idea what to do to correct the problem.

We ate dinner at The China Wok and then went to the AAA office to take care of some business. We also shopped at BJ's.

Peggy had to go for a fasting blood test at 8 a.m. on Wednesday morning and then to her doctor at 10 a.m. for a continuation of the check-up. They found her doing well.

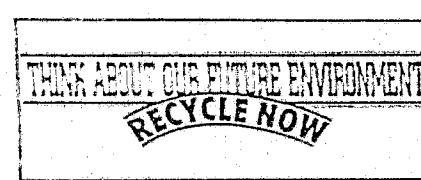

We attended the funeral for Marjorie Chase, at Andrew's Funeral Home, on Wednesday afternoon. Marjorie was well known and there was a good attendance at her funeral. We wish to extend our sympathy to the members of her family.

I have been trapping red squirrels and moving them to a different location. We have moved four and still have at least two more.

After we cleaned all the new snow from our yard on Saturday forenoon, we went to Wal-Mart where Peggy bought a new humidifier.

Yesterday, Peggy and I had dinner at Chef's Table. I was given a gift certificate to eat there for Christmas, and after looking all of this time to find some good looking woman to take out to dinner, I hadn't found any that looked any better to me than Peggy, so I took her to dinner in celebration of her approaching birthday. She'll be a year younger tomorrow.

After leaving the restaurant we shopped a little at Ames and then visited Verna Swan and Gwendolin Holt at Norway Convalescent Home. They both seemed to be doing as well as we had expected to find them. Gwendolin will celebrate her 96th birthday tomorrow.

Academic Awards Night A First

Sponsored by the Telstar parents' group, the first semester Academic Awards Night was a resounding success.

An important objective of Academic Awards Night was the public recognition of students' achievements in an academic setting. The program was put together by co-chairs Nancy Grover and Cheryl Angevine, assisted by Marilyn Howe in the guidance department. They reported 100 percent cooperation from an enthusiastic faculty staff and administration.

Over 250 individuals enjoyed the presentation of some 243 awards to 145 high school students. Students received recognition for perfect attendance, individual class academic achievement and most improved performance. Students of the Month and National Merit Scholarship recipients were also honored.

A number of individuals and groups made contributions that contributed to the evening's success.

Mr. Steven Hays was Master of Ceremonies, assisted by student council members. The program was held at the Telstar Hotel and was a great success. The Telstar Hotel provided a wonderful setting for the event.

Parents and staff provided refreshments and a great time was had by all.

McDonald's, LeDero Management donated supplies. Jackson Silver Post 88 American Legion Auxiliary donated the money for the special paper used to print the award certificates and the General Excellence pins presented to students of the month.

Gould Academy & Crescent Park School Join Forces

Over the past 10 years there have been many successful projects between Gould Academy and Crescent Park School. These projects have included the Breadloaf Writing experience, the Rug Rat Ski Program, and the Big Brother/Big Sister Program, among others.

This year as part of Gould's Four Point Program, over 25 students spent a week at Crescent Park School working in classrooms as a community service project.

Gould students participated in a variety of experiences designed to give them a better understanding of the educational process in the elementary schools.

The program, coordinated by Lorenzo Baker and Deb Dohrmann, placed students in over three-fourths of the classrooms at Crescent Park.

The Crescent Park School placement was one of several community service projects undertaken by the Gould students during the week of March 1 to 8.

Hospitality

Telstar High School is offering its students a new and exciting career preparation opportunity. This class, called Hospitality, is offered in the Family Science Curriculum taught by Lillian Conant.

Hospitality means becoming involved in the industries that serve others. In this field you need to have a willingness and desire to help people.

Many small businesses and entrepreneurs in our SAD44 community have offered support and encouragement for this new "niche" program.

The Summit Hotel had all 12 students rotate through the various departments from housekeeping, kitchen, banquets, dining room, and front desk. Mr. Sullivan talked with the students often about his responsibilities as general manager and they experienced the frustrations and joys of working in the various jobs.

The supervisors at the Summit Hotel were excellent with the students, giving them a real chance to see work as it really is.

We are now at various sites including Sudbury Inn, West Bethel Day Care, Bethel Beauty Shop, The Wild Rose, Ruthies, Mt. Abram Skiway, Jades Salon, Chapman Inn, Pat's Pizza, Hometown Bakery, and Country Kids Day Care.

More sites are being added as contacts are made with prospective supervisors.

Classwork time has been spent on setting up small businesses and how to become an entrepreneur, discussing good work ethics, including telephone skills and the financial aspects, including checking accounts and loans.

The students have been challenged to fit these work schedules into their daily schedules, but they have been enthusiastic and appreciative. This year's class has high energy, love of people, and a real desire to find their "niche" in the world of work.

Telstar Library

Special thanks to the following for recent Telstar Library donations: Barbara Honkala, Tokiko Inaba, she is the exchange student from Japan. She donated a new book on her country to us for Christmas. Four new physics books in honor of Robert C. O'Brien of Albany.

cash donation to purchase two international cookbooks to honor Jessie Thackrey and Helen Lucas at Christmas. Wende Gray, Jill Angevine, Kathy Hooke, Wendy Hanscom, Cheryl Angevine, Chris and Elton Cole, Suzanne Bartlett.

CPS Fifth Grades Plan Annual Trip

Plans are currently under way for Crescent Park School's annual fifth-grade trip to Boston.

Over the next few weeks students will be participating in a humanities T-shirt sale which will benefit their upcoming field trip.

This year's class trip will include visits to the New England Aquarium, the Boston Museum of Science, Faneuil Hall and a tour of Boston Harbor.

In addition, students will also have the opportunity to visit Fenway Park to view a Red Sox game. Swan boat rides at the Boston Public Gardens and a tour of Faneuil Hall will complete this year's two-day trip.

In the next several weeks, students will be engaging in a pizza sale and a flower and bulb sale to complete their fundraising efforts toward this field trip.

This year's excursion will take place on May 23 and 24.

Crescent Park Fifth Grade Receives Boise Cascade Grant

A $1,000 grant was recently received by the Crescent Park School fifth-grade class as a result of an application submitted earlier this year by David W. Murphy, principal.

This grant will allow fifth-grade students to further their educational opportunities in the area of the physical sciences. As part of this proposal, the students will receive a week's worth of instruction from science consultants Tim and Judy Kersey.

This will be a follow-up to the workshop done for all students at Crescent Park School last October.

The grant will allow for additional hands-on opportunities and extensions of classroom-based curriculum experiences over the course of the last two months of school. Boise Cascade has made this grant available through their Contributions Program.

Crescent Park School PTA Celebrates 99th Anniversary

The Crescent Park School PTA recently celebrated their 99th anniversary of the National Parent Teacher Association.

A giant birthday cake, created by Marilyn Swan, Gloria Crockett-Jackson and JoAnn Crockett, amazed students as they entered the school on Feb. 29. At recess, each child was treated to a piece of the creation as part of the PTA's celebration. In the year to come the CPS

PTA will be focusing several different events on the upcoming 100th anniversary. Co-presidents Brenda Wright and Marjorie Osgood pointed out that the National PTA was directly responsible for the first school lunch programs offered in the United States.

In addition, PTAs have helped form many productive alliances between schools and homes over the past century.

WOODSTOCK CELEBRATES 100 DAYS, DENTAL HEALTH MONTH—Left, Stephen McDonnell, Justin Kennison, Denise Corrin and Josh Noyes help celebrate "100's Day." On the 100th day of school, students in Mrs. Ford's grade two class brought in a variety of items which totaled 100. A number of counting activities are completed by the students using the various items. During Dental Health Week, information was provided to students ranging from tips on good nutrition to offering students a "Healthy Snack Day." Tracy Mason also came to Mrs. Ford's classroom to demonstrate proper brushing techniques. At right, Allen Savage and Justin Merchant practice the fine art of flossing.

National Children's Dental Health Month

Local elementary schools celebrated Dental Health Month in February.

Thanks to the cooperative effort of the SAD44 Dental Health program and the office of Dr. John Mason, many dental health activities were offered.

During healthy snack week (Feb. 5-9), all students in grades K-5 were treated to a snack party of fruits, vegetables, cheese, crackers and pretzels.

The importance of healthy teeth for dental health and general health was stressed.

Grade one students had the opportunity to visit Dr. Mason's office and learn how to brush and floss.

Students were encouraged to keep their teeth healthy.

A toothbrush swap was held at the elementary schools during the week of Feb. 12. Students, parents and community members were invited to bring their old toothbrush to school and receive a new one in exchange.

A toothbrush contest was also held with a winner chosen from each grade level. The topics for the toothbrush contest included: "Keep your teeth healthy by brushing twice a day, flossing, and eating a healthy diet." The contest was open to all students in grades K-5.

grade three - dental sealants, grade four - importance of fluoride and mouth guards, grade five - smokeless tobacco.

Dental health presentations were also done in the classroom by Tracy Mason, Donna Fyfe and John Cole.

Ask your student what they have learned about dental health.

Chris Cole, R.N., district nurse and director of the school dental health program, would like to recognize and thank Tracy Mason for her many hours of volunteering to make this the best dental health month ever.

Rotary International Primary School Poster Contest

During the month of February, students at Crescent Park School participated in the Rotary International Primary School Poster Contest around the worldwide contest theme of "How to Make the World a Better Place to Live."

This contest was open to all primary-age school children throughout the world. Students were urged to use only one poster, pencil, pen and markers to best express how they felt the world could become a better place to live.

Students at Crescent Park School took this challenge to heart with over 80 students participating.

The posters were evaluated on the following criteria: presentation, creativity and imagination, and expression of family and community values. Lucy Newell, a fifth grade student at Crescent Park School, was the winner of the contest.

Lucy's theme focused on the wonderful things that can happen when people work together.

Selecting a finalist from the many exceptional contest entries was extremely hard and required input from several judges.

Many other semifinalists' posters will be on display at the upcoming Bethel Rotary Club meeting this month.

Any clubs interested in borrowing some of the semifinalists' posters to display at an upcoming Rotary meeting should contact David Murphy at 824-2839.

PAPERWORK—Four representatives from the Pulp and Paperworkers Resource Council (PPRC) paid a visit to Andover Elementary School recently. Pictured are a few of Mrs. Meisner's second-grade students participating in a papermaking session. Foreground: Daniel Chenery and Blake Conrad. Dave Gallant, Scott Grassette, Dick Chen, and Matt Bean assisted the students with their tasks and also presented information on woodland management. The students each made their own piece of paper and received pencils and informational activity books to go along with the presentations.

Anyone wishing to become active in the CPS PTA should contact the school office at 824-2839.

BASE/SOFTBALL TRYOUTS

Bethel Recreation Board's annual tryouts for Bethel baseball teams will be held March 30 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Gould Academy field house. Boys and girls will be evaluated in a number of skills and will be placed on teams based on age and ability. Everyone will be placed on a team.

The schedule will be: 6-8 year olds, 9 to 10 a.m.; 9-10 year olds, 9:30 to 11 a.m.; 11-12 year olds, 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

Softball players, Babe Ruth players, and T-ball players need not attend these tryouts. Everyone, however, must register by March 30. Registration forms may be picked up at Crescent Park School, Telstar Middle School, the town office or at tryout day. Forms may be turned in to the town office or to the Recreation Board on tryout day. The registration fee is $5 per player or $10 per family for Bethel residents; $10 per player or $20 per family for nonresidents. A birth certificate copy is also required for anyone in Rookie, Minor, Bambino, or Babe Ruth League who does not already have one on file. A late fee of $5 per player will be charged for registrations after 3/30 and no registrations can be accepted after 4/21 as rosters need to be filed with the league.

Baseball team levels are: T-Ball, age 5-8; Rookie, age 7-9; Minor, age 6-12; Bambino, age 6-12; Babe Ruth, age 13-15. Ages are determined as of Aug. 1, 1996. Minor and Major teams are usually older, experienced players but league rules allow especially talented younger players to apply to play at these levels.

Softball players ages 8-18 may register as there are several levels of teams available. We are hoping to have enough players to host at least one team in the Oxford League.

Girls are encouraged to get their friends together and sign up. Fees will be returned if there are not enough players and someone doesn't choose to play baseball.

Parents and friends who are interested in coaching, are asked to contact Chris Otten. Also needed are sponsors for T-ball T-shirts. Businesses interested in putting their logo on 15 little backs, should contact Jan Whitworth at 836-2901. Friends of Telstar Middle School are having a bottle drive that day on March 30. Donations should be brought to the field house.

Start TIPS

BLOCKPRINTING BASICS

In relief, or blockprinting, the artist cuts away the areas of a linoleum block so that all that remains is the actual design he wishes to print. Linoleum ink is then rolled on the design. The linoleum block is then impressed on a piece of paper.
